More Artists Announced

Sydney Folk Festival is gearing up for an exciting weekend of music August 18-20 with further artists announced this week. Joining the 2023 roster are a trio of acts pictured below L-R trad specialists Chloe and Jason Roweth; punk folk outfit, The Bottlers and popular headliners, the fabulous Bushwackers, all with their unique take on Aussie folk.

Bringing the world to our own back yard are Super Rats (pictured left), shakuhachi master Riley Lee with Cliona Molins and Jaga Band. In all, 14 new acts have been announced with more to come. Americana fans will love Humbuckin' Pickups, The Buttons, Rory Ellis and Christian Marsh, and Scroggin. You'll soon see why we think Americana is the new Australiana!

Sydney Folk Festival has also announced two special shows for the weekend. Sionnach Rua's Great Irish Song Book celebrates Ireland's rich and unique culture in a lively show, with a mix of Irish music from Planxty to Van Morrison to the Dubliners. Master of irony, satire, tears and laughter, John Dengate will be remembered 10 years since his untimely death in a special concert featuring his songs presented by a brilliant cast of singers.
